Mr. Steve Parker, Commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Aviation and Mr. Fred Miller, Vice-Chairman of the Glasgow Airport Board addressed the Council concerning Kentucky Airports and activities of the Glasgow Airport.

Mr. Fred Miller spoke first to the Council. Miller stated it might be of interest where they get their funds from and how much they can get, and where it goes. The Airport is required every five years to submit a plan to the FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) and the FAA approves it or disapproves it. The Airport funding comes primarily from the FAA. The Glasgow Airport, as do most airports of the same size, get $150,000 a year to do non-revenue projects and/or safety improvements. These funds may be carried over for up to four years. The Airport also has revenue from the Glasgow budget and income from hanger rental, fuel sales and farming activities. Whatever project the Airport has, once approved by the FAA, the FAA pays 90% of it, the State pays 7.5% and the City pays 2.5%. For 2017, the funded project is an Airport Layout Plan. The plan will include an Approach Study, which has never been done per the knowledge of the current board members. The study will be searching for obstructions to the approaches and runways. The estimated cost for this is $94,355. For 2018, they are planning on taxiway and runway crack repairs and seal coat. Estimated cost of this project is about $300,000. For 2019, obstruction removal will be decided on whatever is found in the work that will be this year. The estimated cost of this is $166,666. In 2020, in an effort to replace aging equipment, they plan on having LED lighting installed on runway and taxiway. This type lighting consumes 10% the average of a conventional light, which should improve and decrease utility bills. Cost for this improvement is an estimated $300,000. In 2021, replacement of the fuel farm is planned. The estimated cost is $500,000.
Mr. Miller stated the mission of their board is to provide, develop and expand a safe and efficient airport to meet the existing and future economic growth of Glasgow and Barren County. Mr. Miller stated your airport provides services that effect each of us every day. The FAA estimates 13,100 operations were done at the Glasgow Airport last year.

Mr. Steve Parker stated he hoped the overview presented by Mr. Miller help everyone to know how valuable your airport is to your community. He said airports are economic development magnets. Mr. Parker stated the airport is critical to grow your community and part of your growth plan. There are things that need to be done and the State and the FAA are going to help.
